"Pathways for Women" is a two-day workshop involving academics, policy makers, and practitioners interested in women's intercultural leadership questions. The purpose of the workshop is to evaluate and fine-tune a proposed survey designed to explore the different ways women in international business environments create and utilize mentoring and networking to achieve their career goals. We expect the workshop discussions will enable us to finalize a survey that will be administered to select groups in international corporations. "Pathways for Women" is sponsored jointly by the University of Florida, the University of Michigan, and Indiana University.
